

Meet the Instructors!

COLIN WEBSTER

With 20+ years of playing and 15+ years of diverse coaching experiences, Colin has had the opportunity to work with players of all ages and skill levels, from those just learning to skate to professional hockey players.

He has coached players from over 18 countries and has organized/led camps in Alberta, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, PEI, Newfoundland & Labrador, Nunavut, and Switzerland. Apart from hours spent on the ice, Colin has studied the science behind skill acquisition, teaching techniques, leadership development, and more.

Colin has grown up and spent most of his playing/coaching career in PEI. He moved to Calgary in 2018 and started a family with his amazing wife. They now have 3 beautiful children and two dogs.

Since moving to Calgary, Colin has worked with several organizations but has spent most of his time with Breakaway Power Skating.

Over the past 5 years Colin has logged on average 700+ hours of on ice instruction annually and is now the Executive Director/Operator of Breakaway Power Skating.
